INTRODUCTION

The support project of CREFI AF SAls, to Audit Revenues from the Extractive Industries Sector is an important initiative in Sub-Saharan Francophone Africa, financed by the World Bank to the tune of 500. 000 USD and implemented by the CRRI Secretariat

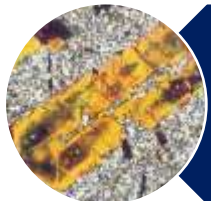

The extractive industry is one of the main sources of growth in sub-saharan Africa

This growth has however, not led to the reduction of poverty and the improvement of public service delivery

The lack of effective control mechanisms in the entire sector of the extractive industry seems to be the main cause

Supreme Audit Institutions are key players in the control framework, but generally lack the capacity to effectively execute this important mandate

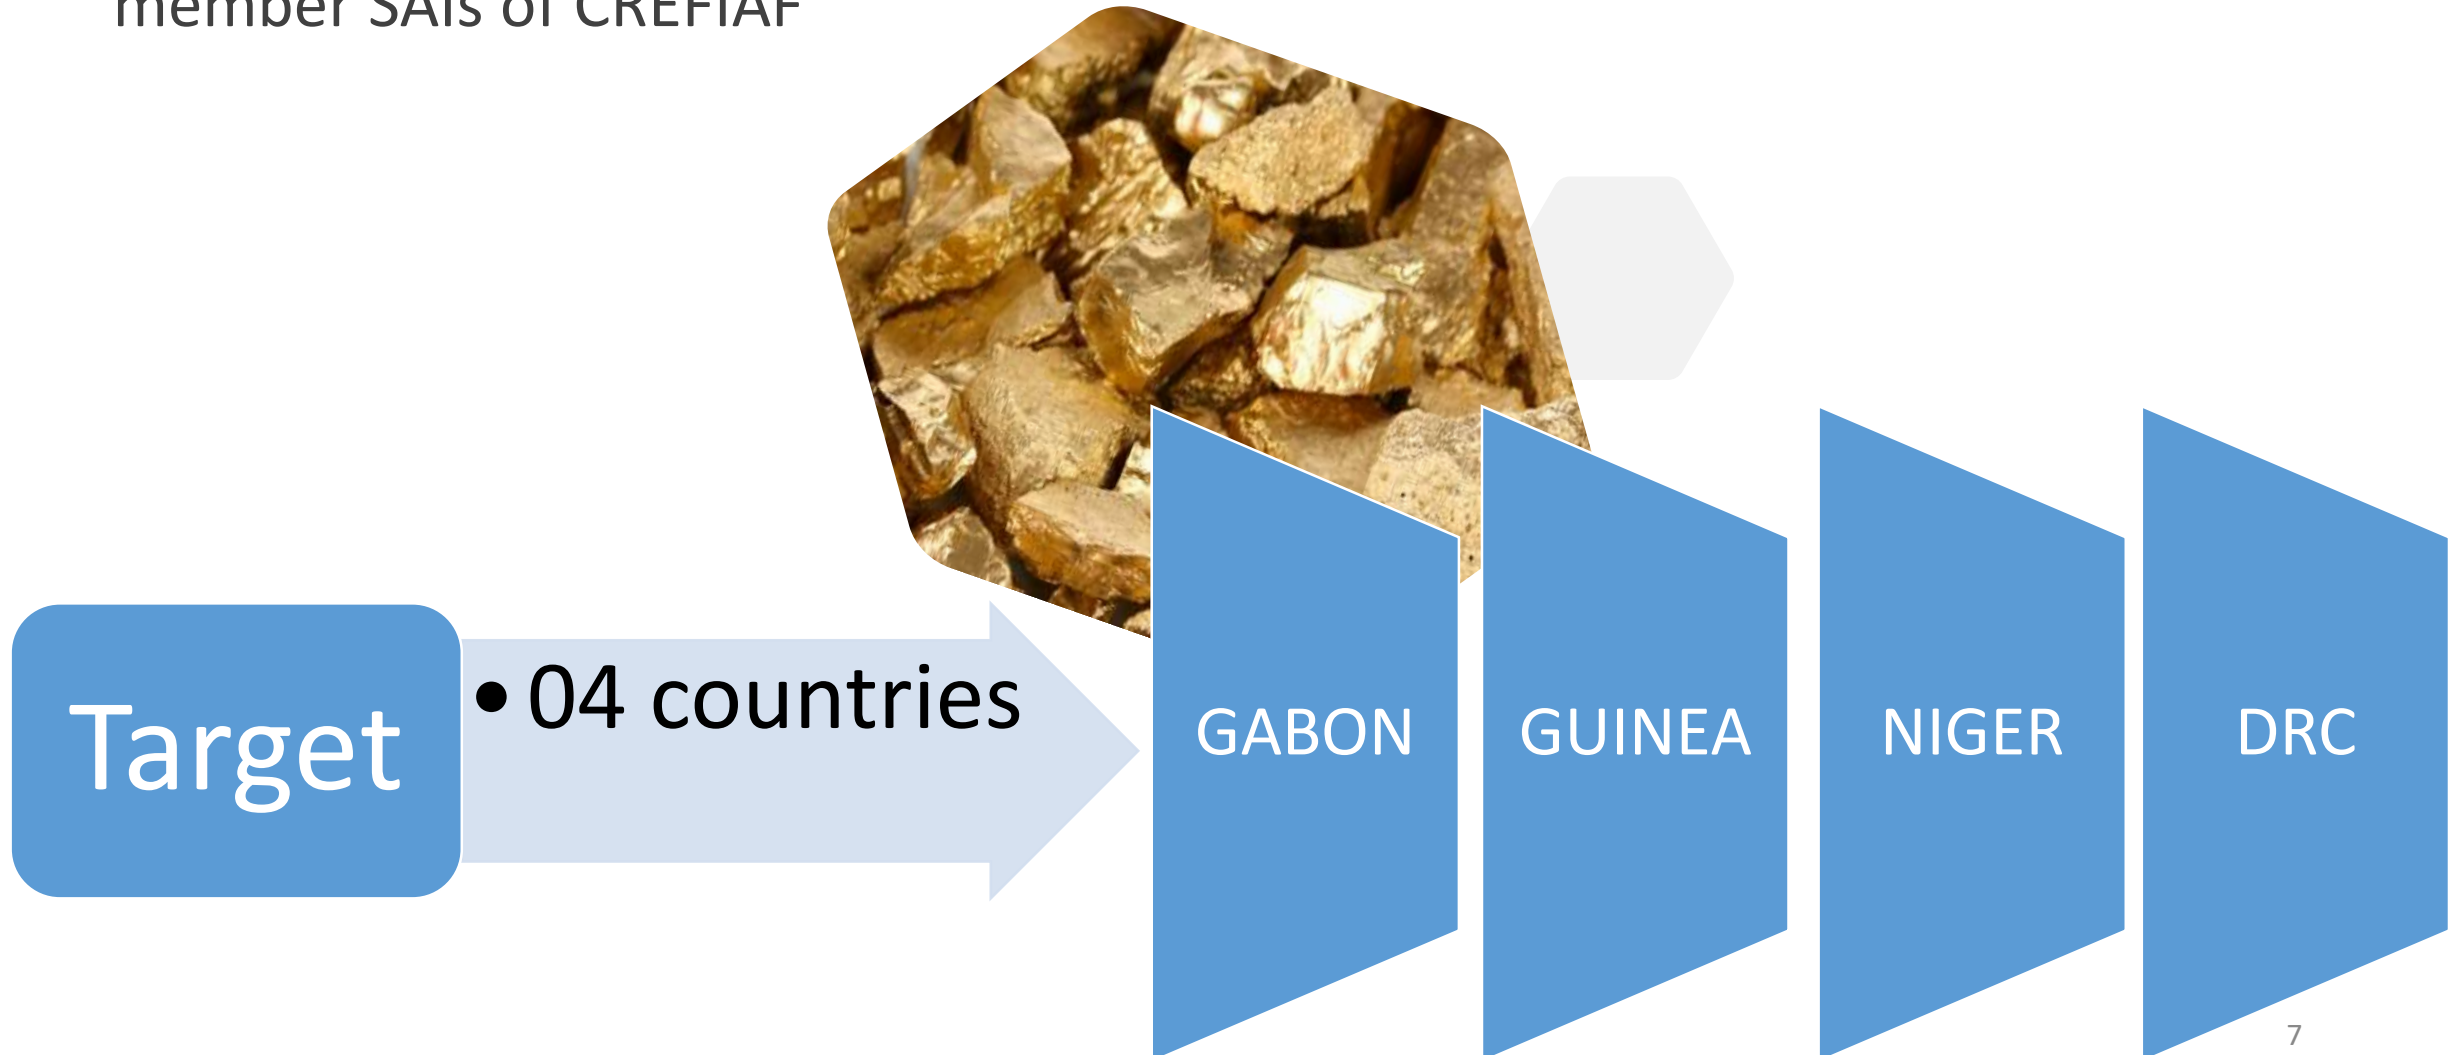

Improve the monitoring of revenues from the extractive industries sector in targeted countries

More inclusive and sustainable economic growth from the activities in this sector

23 Sub-Saharan Francophone African countries through the member SAIs of CREFIAF

The background of the slide is a collage of three photographs showing people in muddy, brown water. In the top left, a person is bent over, digging in the mud. In the top right, a person in an orange vest is standing in the water. In the bottom center, a person's legs are visible, standing in the mud. A large, dark grey gear-like graphic is overlaid on the left side of the slide, with a white hexagonal cutout in the center.
