

OLACEFS resources on citizen participation in audit

The Latin American and Caribbean Organization of Supreme Audit Institutions (OLACEFS) is an international, autonomous, independent, apolitical and permanent organization, born in 1963, in Caracas, Venezuela.

In 2009, OLACEFS created a Special Commission of Citizen Engagement which seeks to promote Citizen Engagement and social and capital control through the exercise of fiscal control.

The Commission has produced a number of documents, including:

- CPC Good Practices Citizen Engagement in Fiscal Control
- CPC Good practices for approaching citizens
- CPC Impact Indicators of Citizen Engagement in SAIs
- CPC Manual of Good Practices for Approaching Citizens
- CPC Panorama of open data at the level of Latin America and the Caribbean
- CPC PROPOSED OPEN DATA ACTION PLAN FOR SAIs
- CPC Pilot Project - EFS Costa Rica
- Pilot Project - CITIZENSHIP, RIGHTS AND SOCIAL CONTROL - SAI Paraguay
- Pilot Project - Strengthening the relationship with citizens - SAI Costa Rica

These documents are available at the Commission's website at –
<https://www.olacefs.com/cpc-citizen-participation/?lang=en>

Together with the World Bank, the CPC has also produced the following e-guides:

- E-guide on Participatory Audit - Citizen Engagement Practices by SAI: Tools and Methods: English
<https://www.e-participatoryaudit.org/module-02/citizen-participation-in-the-audit-process.php>
- E-guide on Participatory Audit - Citizen Engagement Practices by SAI: Tools and Methods: Spanish
<https://www.efsynciudadania.org/e-participatoryaudit/esp/index.html>
- E-guide on Participatory Audit - Citizen Engagement Practices by SAI: Tools and Methods: Video - <https://youtu.be/8u22-CNcugw>